RST 131 GENOCIDE (CRN: 53926)
Instructor: Amila Becirbegovic  MW 11:00-1:30PM (1128 Bainer)

This course focuses on a comparative approach to the modern phenomenon of genocide. It is based on the proposition that genocide can be studied from a comparative, critical and theoretical perspective, while simultaneously preserving the specificity and distinctive nature of each genocidal moment. Several genocides of the 20th and 21st centuries will be analyzed through media, technology and visual culture. Additionally, this course will examine atrocity remembrance and commemoration for each genocidal case, including the Armenian Genocide, the Holocaust, the Rwandan Genocide and the Ethnic Cleansing of the Balkans.

Summer Session 1 (June 22nd-July 31st)
GE credits (Old): ArtHum or SocSci, Wrt, and Div.
GE credits (New): ArtHum or SocSci, Wrt, Visual Literacy, and World Cultures
NO TEXTBOOKS REQUIRED—All readings will be posted on SmartSite